About Kasturba Health Society

When Mahatma Gandhi started his padayatra (foot march) in 1930 from Sabarmati Ashram to Dandi for the Salt Satyagraha, he had decided not to return to Sabarmati till independence for India was attained. Independence was not attained at that time and Gandhiji was imprisoned for more than two years. On his release he spent sometime travelling. He decided to make a village in Central India his headquarters. He came to Wardha in 1934, at the invitation of Jammalalji Bajaj. In April 1936, Gandhiji established his residence in the village Shegaon which he renamed as Sevagram, which means 'village of services'. 1938, attracted by Gandhiji's leadership in Indian freedom struggle, a graduate from Delhi's Lady Harding College, Dr. Sushila Nayyar, arrived at Sewagram. In 1944, Sewagram was experiencing a number of epidemics. In this situation, Bapu had decided to convert his guestroom built by Shri. G.D Birla to a dispensary, and later into a 15-bedded hospital for women and children. In 1969, the first rural medical college named Mahatma Gandhi Institute of Medical Sciences, Sewagram was started. Today, it become 972 bedded multi-speciality hospital.
